

I'm writing to urge the FCC to NOT override the Do Not Call List Law in the State of Wisconsin. This law has improved the quality of my life by allowing me to opt out of receiving telemarketing calls. Other technology such as caller ID has failed to work since many telemarketers have their numbers blocked or masked.

If business are once again allowed to call me as many times as they wish, it would force me to disconnect my phone. This would endanger my safety and others (no access to 911 services) and my quality of life would diminish (would have to go back to writing letters to communicate). Also, it would prevent free enterprise as I would not be able to run a business out of my home without a phone free from numerous incoming telemarketing calls.

Thank you and please do not circumvent the Wisconsin Do Not Call List Law!
